The spider's favorite maxim is, learn to labor and to wait.

The summer girl is putting on her coat of tan and freckles.

It's either a deluge or a drought to make the farmer unhappy.

Why not sell it "aeroplane"? It would be easier to pronounce.

Vacationers regret that the game of coming back was ever invented.

Almost any small boy's ambition at this season is to be a pearl diver.

In hot weather, put off all the things you don't have to do to another day.

This is good weather for a revival of the Greek costume of toga and sandals.

Confiscation of their automobiles would deter reckless motorists from speeding.

The summer season is trying to make good the deficit of heat piled up last winter.

Yale has given up basket ball, thus heading off a challenge from the Wellesley girls.

It takes as much time for a watermelon as for a man to become thoroughly "cooked off."

Strange as it may seem, at first thought, no grape seed was ever found in a vermiform appendix.

Father's pocketbook agrees with the textile men in the belief that there is ruin in the hobbie skirt.

Uneasy lies the head that has no hair, especially when there are flies in the immediate vicinity.

One advantage of being a pitcher for the Detroit team is that you don't have to pitch to Ty Cobb.

The Philadelphia Inquirer calls the theft of an umbrella a "white steal." That feller has a guilty conscience.

The millionaire who paid $48,000 for a pair of ancient andirons is plainly started in a way to have a hot old time.

Now the warning has gone out against soap as a carrier of germs. This time the crusade makes a clean sweep.

One of the obstacles in the way of the anti-kissing crusade is that most girls would rather be son-kissed than son-kissed.

The man who threatens to let his whiskers grow if his favorite candidate is not elected now has the center of the stage.

If, as a fashion expert says, the skirts will be tighter next fall, there will be a great increase in the use of the shoe horn.

According to a Boston doctor the American nation is becoming flat-footed. And some are being caught red-handed, too.

Superstitious persons who look upon thirteen as an unlucky number overlook the fact that there were thirteen stars in the original flag.

For every man killed in flying a dozen die boating and swimming. It is in the number who survive that aviation makes a poor showing.

The hay fever season is ushered in with the dog days, and both are abominable, each, however, in its own deplorable way.

Those misguided people who have been wishing for an old-fashioned summer will confer a favor on this community by promptly unwishing it.

Attendance at big league baseball parks is said to have fallen off since last year. Even baseball finds it hard to compete with a political circus.

Doctor in Boston tells us that the American nation is becoming flat-footed. Probably due to the vast amount of gum-shoe work in politics.

A convention hall in Atlantic City was picked up and carried away by a recent cyclone. Usually, a convention hall is a magnet for all wandering air currents.

We faint would rise in our righteous indignation and smite the feminine practice of wearing male hosiery, but we hesitate for fear of being called a rubber-neck.

A bug and a kiss were the rewards given to the man who rescued a girl from drowning at New Rochelle. Up to date.

Many a man who yearns to be a boy on the farm again would kick like a mule if he were asked to do the chores.

A man convicted of deceiving his wife about money has been sent to jail in Los Angeles. This precedent is enough to send a scare throughout the whole of these United States.

WOMAN IN JUAREZ RULER FOR HOURS

MEXICAN JOAN OF ARC AND TEN
MALE FOLLOWERS TERRORIZE TOWN.

CHIEF OF POLICE HELD UP

Take Horses and Arms and Flee to Join Rebels—Intervention Favored
by Business Men Who Believe It Necessary.

Juarez, Mexico.—For a few hours a Mexican Joan of Arc was the dictator of this town. With ten rebel soldiers marching at the heels of her horse she rode up to the police station and disarmed the provisional chief of police and six of his men. The rebels rode away mounted on the police horses.

The woman fearlessly entered stores and demanded and received provisions and then shortly before daylight she rode out of town with her admiring followers.

The woman, young and beautiful, is said to be the wife of Col. Lazaro Alanis, the rebel commander, who is operating around Palomas along the border to the west. It is believed that this militant spouse goes to join her husband after her raid of this town, which is unprotected but for a few police installed at the departure last week of Orozco's rebels. Cloaked in khaki riding suit instead of a coat of mail and mounted astride a snow white horse, Senora Alanis dashed here and there through the town collecting the stragglers from the rebel ranks. Her dashing raid on the police station was an utter surprise. The police meekly surrendered their rifles.

Intervention Favored.

Fort Worth, Tex.—The party of fifteen Mexican capitalists and professional men from the State of Tabasco, touring the Southwest to promote better trade and better feeling between Mexico and the United States, was nearly unanimous that intervention by the Washington authorities is inevitable. The Mexicans give as their reasons for this belief that the republic is so insurrecto-ridden that the government can not overcome conditions, and that even if Orozco is captured and his troops scattered, there is Zapata, and that if Zapata is conquered some other rebel leader will continue slaughter and sacking of towns.

TRY TO UNSEAT PENROSE BOY BORN TO MRS. ASTOR

PROGRESSIVES AND DEMOCRATS
CONSIDER INVESTIGATION.

Sensational Case Likely—If Inquiry
Is Ordered It Will Deal With
Use of Money to Influence.

Washington, D. C.—Progressive Republican and Democratic senators conferred informally as to the advisability of introducing a resolution in the senate directing the committee on privileges and elections to investigate the title of Senator Boies Penrose to his seat.

Such a resolution would rectify charges recently published that Senator Penrose received $25,000 from the Standard Oil company, subsequent to services on the United States industrial commission which investigated the Standard Oil company.

This move would inaugurate the opening of a vastly more important and sensational case even than that of William Lorimer.

If the inquiry is ordered, it will in all probability go into many matters which have not thus far received congressional attention, but to which a vast deal of publicity has been devoted, in connection with the use of money of great corporations, especially the Standard Oil company, to influence legislation.

Commenced in Chicago.

Chicago, Illinois.—Dissolution under the Sherman anti-trust law of the Elgin Board of Trade was asked in a suit filed by United States District Attorney Wilkerson. This action, it is said, will be followed by criminal procedure against members of the quotations committee.

The suit alleges violation of the trust law by the manipulation of the butter and egg market. The case is similar to that pending against the Chicago Butter and Egg Board.

WIFE KILLS WIDOW RIVAL

SLAYER OF NASHVILLE WOMAN
SAYS SHE'S JUSTIFIED.

Mrs. Jones Blames Mrs. Cave for Domestic Trouble and Surrendered
Self After Tragedy.

Nashville, Tennessee.—Mrs. J. G. Jones, 24 years old, went to the home of Mrs. Alma Cave, whom she blamed for her domestic troubles, and shot her to death. Mrs. Cave was a widow and was said to be a daughter-in-law of Rev. Rouben Lindsey Cave, pastor of the Woodland Street Christian church and chaplain general of the United Confederate Veterans.

Mrs. Jones, without a warning knock or ring, entered Mrs. Cave's home at 1207 Ninth avenue, North, and fired two bullets into Mrs. Cave, who was seated in a rocking chair. Mrs. Cave arose, walked across the room and fell dead.

Her slayer then walked to a drug store, called up police headquarters and told the chief's office what she had done. She waited in the drug store until a policeman came to take her.

"I was justified," was the only explanation she would make in her cell. The preliminary hearing was set, and Mrs. Jones' lawyer will seek to have her admitted to bond immediately.

Mrs. Cave had been a widow for a little more than a year. She was 30 years old and was the wife of Stephen Cave.

Mrs. Jones and her husband, who was in partnership with his brother in a soft drink business, separated last fall. She sued him for divorce, but withdrew the suit some time afterward. No other woman was named in her divorce petition.

ACTOR KILLED IN "BATTLE"

Moving Picture Film Depicting Fight Between Cowboys and Indians
Will Show Accident.

Chicago, Ill.—A moving picture film depicting a battle between a band of cowboys and a score of Indians will be more than ordinarily realistic. It will show the leader of the cowboys falling from his horse and trampled under the feet of the horses of his followers.

Alexander Philby, 40 years old, 3523 North Clark street, died at St. Francis hospital. He was the cowboy leader, and fell when his horse stumbled during the staging of the mimic battle. His companions, riding at full speed, could not stop their horses.

Health—Happiness For Those Who Take
Her Advice.

Scottville, Mich.—"I want to tell you how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash have done me. I live on a farm and have worked very hard. I am forty-five years old,
and am the mother
of thirteen children.
Many people think it strange that I am not broken down
with hard work and the care of my family, but I tell them of my good friend,
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and that there will be no backache and bearing down pains for them if they will take it as I have. I am scarcely ever without it in the house."

"I will say also that I think there is no better medicine to be found for young girls. My eldest daughter has taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for painful periods and irregularity, and it has helped her."

"I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tell every one I meet that I owe my health and happiness to your wonderful medicine."

Appropriate Name.

"Why does that doctor's wife call her husband, 'doodle'?"
"Why not? Isn't he a quack?"

Job Not Satisfactory.

"I'm a self-made man," said the proud individual.
"Well, you are all right except as to your head," commented the listener.
"How's that?"
"The part you talk with is too big for the part you think with."

Child's Fear of the Dark.

If mothers notice that the brains of their little ones conjure up uneasy thoughts and thoughts from the shadows of a room more or less dark, let the light burn brightly. To force a child to become accustomed to the darkness is a grave error, if its nervous system is so organized that this forcing is productive of a fright.

The Nervous System of a Child is a very susceptible organization and the deleterious impressions made upon it will often make their influence felt throughout its whole after life. If the child asks for a light under such circumstances do not refuse it.

Really Had Best of It.

John Burroughs is well known as one of the foremost nature writers in this country. Some time ago he visited his brother, Eden Burroughs, who lives in the Catskills, at a place called Hobart. The two brothers went for hunting together. The honor of the hunt came to Eden, who shot the only fox. So it happened that fox-skins were worth five dollars at that time, and the successful Nimrod took much pride in telling how he got the better of the sage of Slabside. Later, in boasting to a few friends about it in the presence of his brother John,
he was interrupted by "You have bragged about that fox hunt long enough. You shot the fox, sold the skin and got five dollars. I wrote a little account of the hunt, and got $75 from the magazine which published it. So there you are!"

WELL PEOPLE TOO

Wise Doctor Gives Postum to Convalescents.

A wise doctor tries to give nature its best chance by saving the little strength of the already exhausted patient, and building up wasted energy with simple but powerful nourishment.

"Five years ago," writes a doctor
"I commenced to use Postum in my own family instead of coffee." (It's a well-known fact that tea is just as injurious as coffee because it contains caffeine, the same drug found in coffee.) "I was so well pleased with the results that I had two grocers place
it in stock, guaranteeing its sale."

"I then commenced to recommend it to my patients in place of coffee, as a nutritious beverage. The consequence is, every store in town is now selling it, as it has become a household necessity in many homes."

"I'm sure I prescribe Postum as often as any one remedy in the Materia Medica—in almost every case of indigestion and nervousness I treat, and with the best results."

"When I once introduce it into a family, it is quite sure to remain. I shall continue to use it and prescribe it in families where I practice."

"In convalescence from pneumonia, typhoid fever and other cases I give it as a liquid, easily absorbed diet.
You may use my letter as a reference any way you see fit." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
